MILEY MADNESS!

MILEY Cyrus is “this close” to dragging boyfriend Patrick Schwarzenegger into a dark and depraved drug-filled world, sources told The National ENQUIRER – and his Kennedy clan mother, Maria Shriver, is furious!

As a video and stills obtained exclusively by The ENQUIRER depict, twerking sensation Miley lit what an eyewitness described as a joint while Patrick sidled up to her in a West Hollywood nightclub on Jan. 24.

“When Maria saw the video she was aghast, then exploded in red-faced rage that her clean-cut son was captured in such a compromising position,” claimed a Kennedy family insider.

“He seemed totally accepting and unfazed as she went about doing her druggie thing.

“It would be an understatement to say Maria’s worried sick over this girl, whom she charitably describes as ‘trashy,’ and the bad influence she’s having on her beloved boy. She feels it’s just a matter of time before Miley drags him down the same twisted path."

'Maria describes her as trashy'

Maria is well aware of her Kennedy cousins' battles with substance abuse, so "Patrick is playing with fire being around someone as combustible as Miley!" added another Kennedy source.

THE VIDEO WAS taken at the On The Rox nightclub and shows the former Disney star bending over in a pair of short shorts to pick up a candle to light up just as Patrick, in profile, comes into view.

The 22-year-old singer was indeed toking up, according to an eyewitness. "It smelled like a joint," revealed the witness. "And if you look at how thick the smoke is, it's clearly not a cigarette."

The same source noted that college student Patrick, 21, was not seen smoking the joint, but was observed knocking back a few drinks with Miley.

Miley was caught in another drug scandal, as reported by The ENQUIRER in our Jan. 12 issue. The pop star was photographed in her drug den surrounded by marijuana and white powder.

Meanwhile, Maria is set to intervene, in hopes of convincing Patrick to dump Miley, said the family friend. "She worries that should Patrick have any political aspirations down the road, being known as 'Miley's boyfriend' could be a real detriment to his chances," the Kennedy friend fretted.

"Maria fears Miley's reckless behavior on the drug front is bound to get her, or them both, busted. It's not a matter of if, but when. And then Patrick's goose will really be cooked!"

JUSTIN & JESSICA GET FROSTY ON SKI BREAK!

JUSTIN Timberlake and Jessica Biel were skiing in Montana on Jan. 24 – but it looked like their marriage was heading downhill just as fast!

The superstar couple acted more like strangers while dining in Big Sky Country, a witness revealed to The National ENQUIRER.

"There seemed to be some tension between them," the Montana spy reported.

"They were not talking at all – Justin was on his phone the entire time, looking down."

Jessica, 32, is six months pregnant with her first child with Justin, 34, but they weren't acting like expectant parents. Could the pair's current cold condition be related to a hot summer night in Paris?

The ENQUIRER published photos showing Justin canoodling with one of his female backup singers at Paris' VIP Room on Aug. 21.

"In Montana, things seemed to be chillier than the weather between Justin and Jessica!" added the source.

LAY OFF THE SAUCE, BRAD!

Angie's fury as he blows $25,000 in poker game after boozy binge!

Brad sipped on cocktails at the festival

HE'S one of Hollywood's biggest stars – but Brad Pitt can't stand up to Angelina Jolie, who's told her hard-drinking hubby to sober up or pack up for a stint in rehab!

Brad went one binge too far while at the Sundance Film Festival in Park City, Utah, The National ENQUIRER has learned.

"After Angie heard about Brad's hard partying, she really laid into him. She told him to start acting like a father of six, or else he was off to rehab," a family insider claimed.

Brad, 51, made his surprise appearance at Sundance on Jan. 23 as a co-producer of "True Story" – and knocked back multiple drinks with star James Franco before gleefully losing $25,000 in a poker game.

Meanwhile, Angelina was flying to northern Iraq to visit victims of ISIS.

"She was fit to be tied," said the source. "She's off risking her life, trying to make a difference in the world while Brad's partying like a college student."

The "Unbroken" director,

39, quickly phoned her wayward husband with an ultimatum.

"She told Brad to straighten up his act and get off the sauce – or else she was sending him off to clean up his act!" said the insider.

Another source told The ENQUIRER: "Brad's promised to rein in the boozing for years, but he hasn't followed through.

"If Brad doesn't stop his constant partying, their relationship may not last."

JEN PUTS WORK BEFORE FAMILY

Suddenly she's not so desperate to marry

IT'S career first for Jennifer Aniston – who's putting her wedding and baby plans on hold, sources told The National ENQUIRER.

Even though Academy Award voters snubbed her acclaimed role in "Cake," Jen is "powering forward on work projects," a pal said.

And that's not sitting well with Justin Theroux, the actress' fiancé.

"Jen was heartbroken at being passed over this awards season, but just getting nominated set a fire under her," said an insider.

"Now she wants to fully focus on work. So Jen told Justin she can't be distracted by wedding planning and trying to get pregnant.

"She's determined to follow the lead of her good friend, Reese Witherspoon."

Reese earned an Oscar nod for her role in "Wild." Spurred by Reese's success, Jen announced she plans to direct a full-length feature film.

"Jen broke the news to Justin in mid-January. She told him that she wants to shelve their marriage and baby plans until at least 2016," said the source.

"Justin feels duped. He's furious because Jen pestered him all of last year to marry her. Now she's the one dragging her feet!"

BRUCE'S CUT-RATE

■ For $1,700, Jenner decides to become a woman

■ Operation to be performed in back alley clinic

■ The doctor: 'I'm not the best, but I'm the cheapest!'

BRUCE Jenner is having sex-swap surgery in Thailand, The National ENQUIRER can now exclusively reveal.

The shocking procedure "will be the icing on the cake" for the 65-year-old Olympic gold medalist and reality TV dad, a Kardashian family source said – adding that Bruce's "feminization process" shifted into high gear after his divorce from Kris Jenner.

During filming of "Keeping Up with the Kardashians" this past season in Thailand, Bruce snuck away from the family to meet with a doctor who performs sex-reassignment surgery!

Bangkok surgeon Dr. Thep performs sex-change operations at bargain prices

The thrice-married Bruce – a father of six with four step-children – is "serious" about the change and has talked to a "doctor at length about having his penis removed," the source claimed.

AS BRUCE APPEARS on the verge of officially confirming his gender-bending status, ENQUIRER reporter Alan Butterfield traveled to Bangkok, Thailand, to visit the Pratunam Polyclinic – one of the facilities where Bruce's sex-change operation can be performed.

The life-changing operation will only set Bruce back just under $1,700 – a bargain compared to the $25,000 price tag of male-to-female gender reassignment surgery in the United States. That price includes the three-hour surgery and recovery time at the clinic.

"The rest of the Kardashian clan may get their nips and tucks at sleek, ultra-modern facilities in Beverly Hills, but Bruce answers to his own drummer," said the source. "In Thailand, he's virtually unrecognizable."

The clinic is run by Dr. Thep Vechavisit, who sometimes performs operations clad in flip-flops and casual clothing.

"I am not the best plastic surgeon in Bangkok, but I'm the cheapest,” he told The ENQUIRER.

Dr. Thep’s chaotic clinic is located off a busy street in the capital city’s Water Gate district. Reported Alan: “The first thing you see upon entering are the rows of metal chairs that serve as a waiting room and reception area.

“The front desk also serves as a makeshift pharmacy for recovering patients. The waiting room is plastered with posters advertising transsexual beauty pageants. Bruce ought to get a kick out of that!”

IF BRUCE UNDERGOES the procedure at Pratunam Polyclinic, he first will be put under anesthesia. Then his testicles will be removed and the skin of his foreskin and penis will be inverted as a flap, preserving his blood supply and nerve endings to form a fully sensitive vagina.

“I’ve performed approximately 2,000 sex change operations – that’s about three a week,” Dr. Thep said of his busy practice. “I see patients not only from America, but from China, Vietnam, Japan and the Philippines.”

Bruce would spend two to three days in recovery and wouldn’t be allowed to fly for three to four weeks, to ensure there are no complications.

New sex-change laws in Thailand now require patients to

'I feel PAIN like your heart has been ripped out'

CHILLING LAST WORDS OF WHITNEY'S DAUGHTER BOBBI KRISTINA BEFORE TRAGIC SUICIDE BID

EXCLUSIVE

Bobbi Kristina was found facedown in a tub in circumstances eerily similar to how mom Whitney died in 2012, seen below in a photo recreation

BOBBI Kristina Brown revealed tragic family secrets in text messages that could be the last words ever written by Whitney Houston's daughter — as exclusively obtained by The National ENQUIRER!

The troubled 21-year-old showbiz offspring was found unconscious and face-down in a full bathtub on Jan. 31 after a night of wild partying.

Before the shocking suicide attempt, though, Bobbi Kristina had sent texts to the mother of her close pal Danyela, who was staying with her boyfriend at Bobbi Kristina and hubby Nick Gordon's home.

The worried mom wanted Danyela to return home, a source told The ENQUIRER.

"Danyela is perfectly fine, [you were] totally out of line for calling the cops and PUTTING her in harms way...That's not right at ALL," Bobbi Kristina replied.

Referring to the late Whitney, Bobbi Kristina further ranted: "My mother NO MATTER WHAT! Could or would ever do to me."

And a longer email revealed a sad private detail: "Listen Mrs — I apologize for your losses of your children. I couldn't imagine that at all because of the fact that my husband and I are trying now and I was ALLLLL my mother lived for, despite the fame the fortune...

So please don't come to me telling me that I have NO idea what it feels like to feel that pain like your heart has been ripped out of your chest and lost for the rest of your life."

A relative of Danyela said the mother was "too upset" to comment.

From the bottom of our 'Hart': We're all praying for Stefanie!

STILL ALL "HART!" Gorgeous redhead STEFANIE POWERS – after dodging bullets and killers on TV classics "Hart to Hart" and "The Girl From U.N.C.L.E." – took on a fight she's still winning since being diagnosed with cancer 7 years ago. Always upbeat, the actress, 72 – who just starred in a Hallmark TV drama and runs the African wildlife reserve founded by former lover/ Hollywood legend WILLIAM HOLDEN – calmly told us:

"I've had several surgeries, but I'm waiting on one more – a double mastectomy!"

Rocked by that shocker, we asked: "How do you face it all?" Her answer's my new motto: "One day it will come down," she said, "but until then, I'm not going to hesitate to tackle anything."

WOW! Snag her thriller of a book, "One from the Hart!"

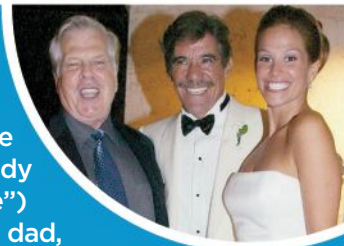

SOFIA'S GIRL/GIRL TEASIN' WITH REESE MAKING HER MANGANIELLO CRAZY!

OF COURSE I'm grabbing this butt – look at this!" SOFIA VERGARA literally SQUEALED on the "E!" red carpet while squeezin' the charmin' rear of REESE WITHERSPOON – her co-star/girl-on-girl-bondage-mate in their sizzling new movie "Hot Pursuit" – and Reese ree-bounded with this sexy Sofia compliment: "There's just so many things I want to grab on HER – I can't control myself!" ... YEEEEEE-OW! ... Then the naughty minxes teased boys into buying tickets with ... SOFIA: "We were both handcuffed to each other!" REESE: (giggling) "Yes, we made out!" SOFIA: "We kiss!" REESE: (giggle, giggle) "She got to see my underwear ... I got to see her underwear!" And as we over-heat imagining Caliente Cute-ita and Bayou Blondie getting sweaty, savor this SECRET: Turns out nobody's more turned on than Sofia's hot man-toy, JOE MANGANIELLO, who's BEGGING his senorita for a sneak peek at advance footage – especially too-hot-for-screening outtakes! Said My Vergara Spy: "When Joe found out Sofia and Reese did girl/girl kissing, he begged for 'dailies' – the director's rough footage. Sofia laughed him off, but Joe keeps begging for his dream come true! So ... will Sofia grant Loverboy a fantasy peek? Don't tell Joe, gossip fans – but Sofia's secretly putting some sexy photos and clips together for her man's Valentine's Day!" OLE! (That's pronounced, "Oh, LAY!") Stay tuned.

Mazel Tov to my buddy Geraldo and 'Young Stuff' bride Erica!

Erica just celebrated her 40th birthday at a star-studded Manhattan party! To my Puerto Rican-Jewish buddy Geraldo – a perfect mix of mensh and macho (now kickin' it on DONALD TRUMP's "Celebrity Apprentice") – I say Mazel Tov; you've made the bride we joked was "a bit young" a happy wife! Pals teased that Erica's dad, HOWARD, was one year younger than you! He told me at the wedding: "When I took Geraldo to the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame, it was a shock when my future son-in-law and I both got senior citizen discounts!" Happy Birthday, Erica – and thanks, amigo, for the memories: My World Record 264 "Geraldo" TV show appearances!

Bey & Jay croon MOVIN' tune: 'Crib Cruising for Million$$$!'

BEY & JAY CROON NEW TUNE

... "CRIB CRUISIN'!" Imagine this: You're chillin' at your gazillion$$$ estate in LA's uber-exclusive Holmby Hills when your gate security phone rings, you pick up ... and a voice croons, "Hi, I'm JAY Z – I wanna buy your crib!" Okay, it didn't go quite that way, but it was still mighty damn weird, says My Society Spy, when Jay, BEYONCE and an entourage of staffers in four black Escalades cruised into swanky Holmby, scouting to buy mansions – worth $30-to-$100 million – that weren't even on the market! "They phoned three properties," said my source. "Two owners flatly refused to talk – thinking it was a scam – but one guy gave the celeb couple a tour, although he wasn't selling. But saying 'not for sale' means nothing to Bey and Jay. If it's something they like, they'll make an offer that'll be hard to refuse!" (Interested sellers contact ME at my "MIKEGOSSIP" email. I charge NO commission, but I want HOT Holmby gossip!)

Jenny McCarthy's 'Dirty Daddy-O' gets '50 Shades' raunchy on radio!

JENNY MCCARTHY's "Dirty, Sexy, Funny" radio show on SiriusXM shockingly turned "Filthy, Creepy, EEEEWWW" when real-life dad DAN 'MACKY' MCCARTHY, who does the show's weather reports, suddenly started reading that infamously beyond-nasty passage from "Fifty Shades of Grey" (the "insert-withdrawal" scene girly fans gasped over) that's so beyond XXX producers slashed it from the movie! Gasp! A disgusted industry insider: "What woman encourages her own father to read creepy filth like that out loud and in front of her?" Incredibly, Jenny thought it was hilarious, but as Daddy Macky mouthed his vile filth, everyone in earshot turned Fifty Shades of BARF! (Go to the "Dirty, Sexy, Funny" Facebook page and see Creepy Hands-on Daddy-O mash the buxom breasts of a Jenny galpal! Eeeewwww!) ... And how was YOUR week?

Hitler's American relatives

ADOLF Hitler's bloodline lives on in an American suburb – with relatives of the Nazi madman taking a blood vow to end their evil lineage with their own deaths!

As the world marks the 70th anniversary of Jews being liberated from the Auschwitz death camp, a National ENQUIRER investigation reveals that three great-nephews of the murderous tyrant lead quiet lives in Long Island, N.Y. – although one has the middle name of Adolf.

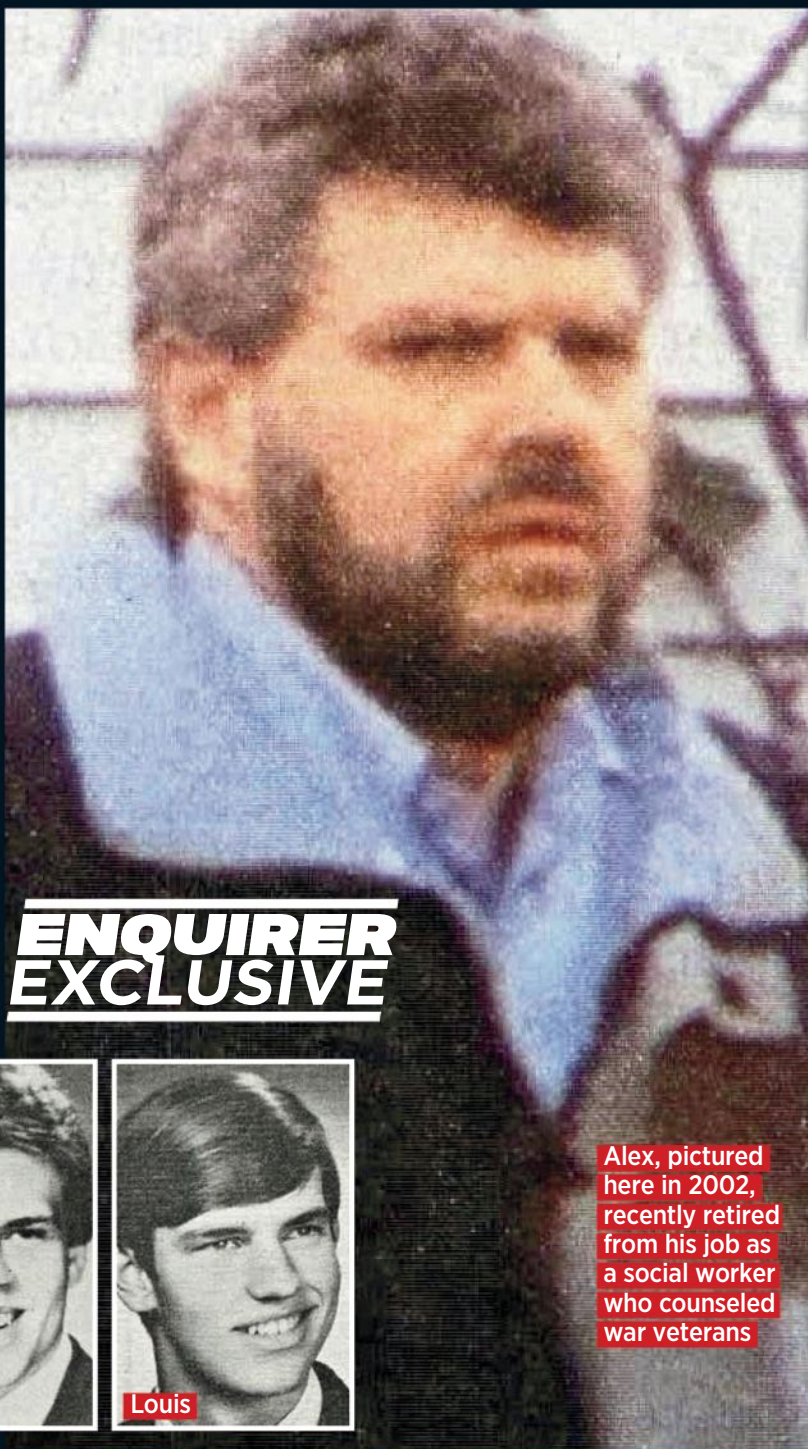

That's the burden of Alexander Adolf Stuart-Houston, a 65-year-old retired social worker who once counseled Vietnam veterans. He resides alone in a ranch-style home in East Northport.

His younger brothers – Louis, 63, and Brian, 49 – share another ranch home in nearby Patchogue.

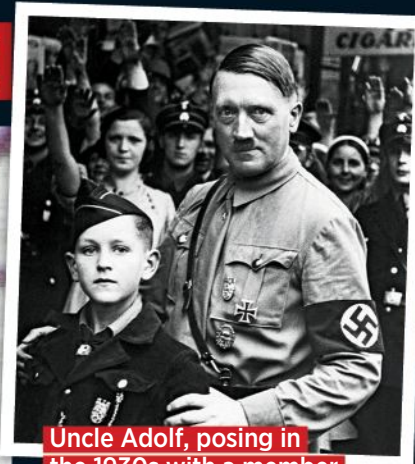

A fourth brother, Howard, was an IRS agent who died in a 1989 car accident at 32.

Their father was William Patrick Hitler – born in Liverpool to Adolf Hitler's older half-brother, Alois. William moved to Germany, but fled to America after Uncle Adolf demanded that he renounce his British citizenship.

One of them's even called Adolf!

William served in the U.S. Navy during World War II, and married a German-born U.S. citizen before settling in Patchogue.

He quietly passed away in 1987 at the age of 76, with his lineage mostly forgotten – despite his new surname of “Stuart-Houston” being a tribute to Nazi author Houston Stewart Chamberlain.

When asked, their neighbors had no clue about the dark family history.

“Oh, my God!” gasped one shocked suburbanite. “Hitler’s nephews live here?”

Meanwhile, the brothers are determined to put an end to their family names. Alexander continues to deny that the Stuart-Houstons have made a pact to end their bloodline – but none of the three brothers have children.

SUPERMODEL Christie Brinkley has defied age, motherhood and four marriages to remain absolutely stunning and bikini-ready after turning 61 on Feb. 2!

"Everybody is blown away by how gorgeous she is," gushed her 29-year-old daughter with former husband Billy Joel, Alexa Ray.

The infinitely youthful Christie is also mom to college freshman Jack Brinkley-Cook, 19, and lookalike daughter Sailor, 16, who's also now modeling.

And she credited her amazing figure to a regular workout regimen.

"The more active I am, the better I feel," said the former "Sports Illustrated" swimsuit edition cover girl.

Christie, who debuted on Broadway to rave reviews at the age of 56 in the long-running musical, "Chicago," cranks out at least 100 push-ups a day, and sneaks in side leg-lifts and calf raises while she cooks and brushes her teeth. She also does yoga and is "hooked" on SoulCycle.

But she admitted to being human, confessing that her jeans size can fluctuate four inches if she gets lazy. But her solution is simple.

"I just get on the stick and exercise more!" she said.

Christie with her children, Jack, Alexa and Sailor

CHRISTIE: STILL SMOKIN' HOT & FUN AT 61!

Christie also maintains a healthy eating regimen, and was recently convinced by Sailor to make it even stricter when she converted from a vegetarian diet to one that's nearly completely vegan.

"I treat every day like I'm eating to fuel my body," said Christie, who starts her day with coffee and sheep's milk yogurt with fruit, wheat germ and Anutra, a supplement that provides fiber and omega 3 antioxidants. Meals typically feature beans and veggies.

"My snack is melon and walnuts," Christie added. "If I'm craving sweets, I'll drink coconut water!"

She's also devoted to her beauty rituals, which include her own line of Christie Brinkley Authentic Skincare products which she says play a key role in her seemingly eternal youth.

"I go to my dermatologist about once a month and get special facials," she said.

But her big tip for women of a certain vintage is to focus on the positive.

"I went through a tough decade in my 50s," she said. "I lost my parents and went through a miserable divorce [from architect Peter Cook] while trying to be a pillar for my kids. But I made it through.

'SHE DOESN'T WANT ANYTHING TO DO WITH US!' Family of kidnap victim Michelle says she's in hiding

FORMER sex slave Michelle Knight has turned her back on her family. Nearly two years since her rescue from a Cleveland house of horrors, she still has had no contact with her loved ones.

"She don't want anything to do with us," her brother Freddie told The National ENQUIRER.

Michelle disappeared in August 2002 when she was 21. According to her mother, her family thought she'd run away.

Courageous Michelle endured 11 harrowing years of torture, rape, pregnancies and forced miscarriages at the hands of evil sicko Ariel Castro in his ramshackle home.

Finally in May 2013, she was found along with captives Amanda Berry and Gina DeJesus. But Michelle refused to see relatives, including her grandmother.

When news of her miraculous rescue spread, her mother traveled to Ohio from Naples, Fla., to see her. But she was turned away. In desperation, she hired an attorney, hoping to get access to her daughter, but failed.

At the time, Freddie reportedly said: "My sister is going to move on, forget the past."

But today even he doesn't know where she is. "I don't know really what's wrong, but whatever," said Freddie, who hasn't seen his sister or his family since her abduction.

Michelle has remained in near-total seclusion since regaining her freedom, giving only a few interviews in 2014 to promote her memoir, "Finding Me."

Monster Ariel Castro committed suicide in prison; brother Freddie (right)

Amanda's beloved dad passes away

IN A tragic twist to Amanda Berry's escape from Ariel Castro's cruel imprisonment, The National ENQUIRER has learned the kidnapping victim has lost her father — less than two years after being freed from a decade in captivity.

Johnny Berry was buried in Elizabethton, Tenn., on Jan. 6, after dying three days earlier. Now the 28-year-old survivor is feeling even more unspeakable pain.

"They'd hold hands. They were close. As much as they could, they were together," Amanda's grandmother, Fern Gentry, told The ENQUIRER of her son's last days under medical care.

Johnny Berry died less than two years after Amanda's escape from her sick, twisted kidnapper

"She got to see her dad a lot. She knew he was suffering, and we all saw it and didn't want to see it anymore. She's the one who did it all, too. She didn't want anyone helping her. She wanted to do everything for her dad she could do."

Amanda was just 16 years old when Castro abducted her on April 21, 2003. She was raped and tortured alongside fellow captives Michelle Knight and Gina DeJesus.

The three women finally escaped from Castro's Ohio dungeon after Amanda struggled to call out to passing strangers from inside the house on May 6, 2013 — 10 years after her disappearance.

But her mother, Louwana Miller — who passed away in 2006 — never gave up hope that Amanda was still alive.

And despite battling pulmonary disease and being near-paralyzed from back surgery, Amanda's father fought to protect her until the end.

"If I could get my hands on that monster, I'd kill him myself!" Johnny, 55, previously told The ENQUIRER.

"If I can't kill him, I don't want the state to execute him. That would be too easy for him."

Instead, Johnny lived to see the cowardly Castro commit suicide while serving a life sentence, plus 1,000 years.

Despite the setback, Amanda is doing well, said Fern. Amanda spends her days writing her memoir, while enjoying the precious time with her daughter, Jocelyn, that Amanda couldn't experience with her own parents, according to Fern.

CLINTON'S 'ORGY JET' TRIP TO SEE SLEAZY SULTAN OF BRUNEI!

Bill delivers another hammer blow to Hillary's White House bid

SHOCKING new details have emerged about Bill Clinton's travels with pedophile Jeffrey Epstein on the billionaire's "orgy jet" - as Bill's wife Hillary wonders how many more sexual secrets are waiting to torpedo her 2016 bid for the White House!

The former prez flew with Epstein to the Islamic state of Brunei to dine with a notorious Sultan accused of duping women into "white slavery." The National ENQUIRER has learned.

It's yet another humiliation for Hillary - and right after The ENQUIRER revealed her hubby's connection to a pedophile sex slave scandal in a world-rocking scoop!

Bill flew into Brunei in Epstein's private 727 - equipped with an alleged "orgy bed" - on May 25, 2002. Their entourage included Ghislaine Maxwell and Sarah Kellen - both alleged "madames" for Epstein's kiddie sex ring.

Bill flew to visit Sultan Hasanal Bolkiah - who'd relied on Clinton-era diplomatic immunity to beat charges of holding an American beauty queen against her will.

That didn't stop the non-profit Clinton Foundation from accepting the state of Brunei's 2002 donation to the Clinton Presidential Library - for a sum between $1 million and $5 million!

News of the meeting emerged after Virginia Roberts' sworn testimony. In it, she accused Epstein of using her as an underage "sex slave" to service powerful figures, including Prince Andrew and Harvard law professor Alan Dershowitz.

Flight logs reveal Bill being picked up by Epstein from a Japanese naval airport on May 22, 2002, with a destination to dine with Sultan Bolkiah. He was accused of having women "transported to Brunei as human chattel" in a lawsuit filed by former Miss USA Shannon Marketic.

The Sultan has denied the charges - just as Prince Andrew, Dershowitz and Maxwell have denied Virginia's charges.

SICKO TYCOON TRIES TO SILENCE ENQUIRER

THE twisted billionaire who entertained a prince and an ex-president is begging a judge to muzzle our top reporters, after being exposed in a global sex scandal revealed by The National ENQUIRER.

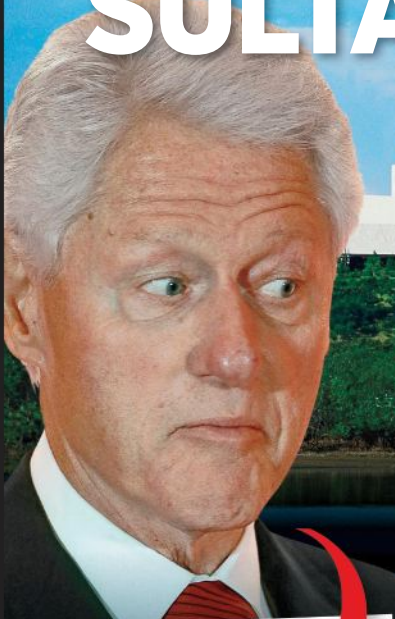

A January 21 filing revealed lawyers for pedophile Jeffrey Epstein implored a federal judge to stamp "SEALED" across a letter that could implicate the billionaire's most powerful friends in a kinky criminal cover-up.

Dated July 2007, the document would expose negotiations between Epstein and the U.S. Attorney General's Office - culminating in a deal that gave Epstein and "potential co-conspirators" immunity from charges that he ran a sex trafficking ring.

"The private interests at stake are profoundly important," the tycoon's legal team contended, claiming future defendants wouldn't cooperate for fear of being exposed by The ENQUIRER.

The appeal avoids naming "clients" other than Epstein, who'd be embarrassed by the letter.

Ray of hope dims for sad Rachael & twisted hubby

She's had enough of his sleazy double life, says a cousin

RACHAEL Ray and hubby John Cusimano are living separate lives following years of rumors he's engaged in sleazy shenanigans behind her back.

"John's already doing his thing and she's doing hers," Rachael's cousin, Gina Mesnick, exclusively told The National ENQUIRER, suggesting the couple's nine-year marriage could end in a $60 million divorce.

Since the couple wed in 2005, the talk show star has endured persistent whispers about John's sordid double life.

In 2006, Jeaninne Walz of Florida said she had a five-year relationship with John, 47, that continued even after he married Rachael. Both John and Rachael denied the claims. Another woman claimed John – an attorney and musician – paid her to satisfy his weird sex fetishes.

The ENQUIRER reported in 2013 John had reputedly visited a swingers' club. He was also said to have cheated with other women before and after he married. John's lawyer denied the story.

The marriage woes have taken a toll on Rachael, 46 – sending the 5-foot-3 cooking diva gorging on comfort food, sources said.

"Her biggest worry is whether she can keep her marriage afloat," an insider said. "Poor Rachael never had any kids with John and when he's on the road, her [dog] Isaboo is her companion."

Appearing on "The Steve Harvey Show" last year, Rachael attempted to gloss over the marriage rumors. "Ray would only admit to the 'PR' version of her story," TV blogger Scott Mandel noted.

Meanwhile, John seems to have made his band "The Cringe" his top priority.

On tour in England, he boasted to an interviewer that he had been "crowd surfing," joking that the band's success was due to "our incredible good looks."

The band also released a music video that seemed far removed from the squeaky-clean image Rachael promotes.

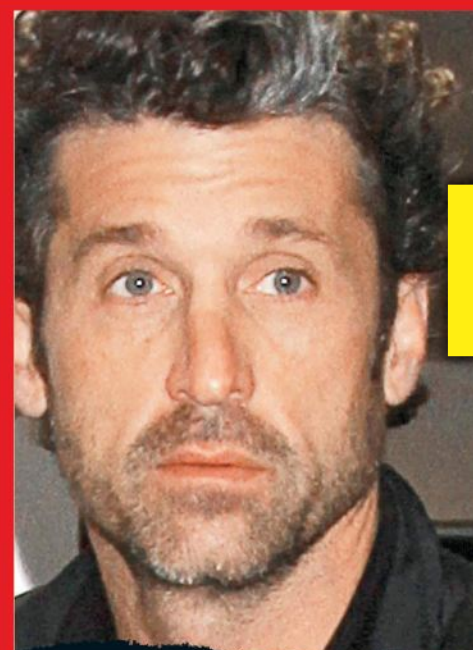

The video, "Deep Girl," shows a topless and tattooed woman in a dimly lit room. It opens with a bearded man resembling John approaching her, and ends with the man sitting alongside her.

"Rachael's worked so hard at cultivating an apple pie image of herself," a second source said. "It may only be a matter of time before she dumps him for good."

Despite denials of marriage woes from the couple's lawyer, Gina claimed, "Rachael kicks him out when they fight – and the next time could be for good!"

HOLLYWOOD dreamboat Patrick Dempsey faces a nasty divorce from second wife Jill Fink – and it could get even nastier as shocking details emerge about the "Grey's Anatomy" star's secret first divorce, including accusations of being a wife beater!

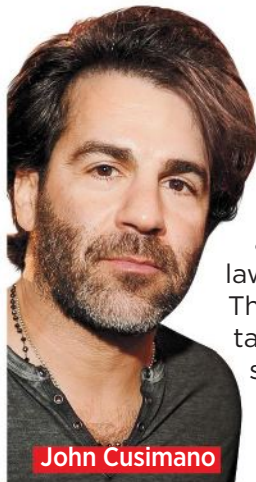

The National ENQUIRER obtained Dempsey's bombshell divorce papers in 2006, in which "Dr. McDreamy" was accused of physically assaulting his first wife, Rochelle "Rocky" Parker.

THE DISTURBING DIVORCE papers provide details on how Rochelle helped her much-younger hubby kick addictions to drugs and alcohol!

Dempsey was only 17 when he met his cougar, a widow with three children. Despite the age gap, the pair married in 1987. He was 21; she was 47.

Rochelle gave up her acting career to become his manager and acting coach. She filed for divorce in 1992, citing "irreconcilable differences" after love rat Dempsey admitted to infidelity.

Their battle dragged on for years, with Rochelle accusing him of abuse in court papers.

DIVORCE BOMBSHELL PATRICK DEMPSEY'S OTHER WOMAN!

You'll never believe her SHOCKING claims

"The physical abuse included Respondent's breaking my finger when he rushed me to the van and closed the door on my finger," according to court documents. "Also, while we were on the set of his [1987] movie 'Can't Buy Me Love,' he beat me up because he claimed he 'wanted to see what it was like to beat up a woman!'"

In the same filing, Rochelle claimed: "He repeatedly expressed his love and appreciation for me, not only for what I had done for him professionally but also for my helping him get off drugs and alcohol."

She was awarded substantial support from Dempsey through a pension trust - as well as the couple's home, a car and a 38-foot motor home.

In 2006, Dempsey's reps vehemently denied Rochelle's claims and told The ENQUIRER his ex-wife had filed false statements.

His reps further said they had received a statement from

Jill and Patrick married in 1999 and reportedly do not have a prenup her in which she said the statements she made in divorce papers about Dempsey were false.

When then contacted by The ENQUIRER, Rochelle said she stood by her claims, adding, "I don't know why I would put up with the violence and then protect him."

While Rochelle passed away in 2014, Dempsey's reps continue to deny her claims.

DEMPSEY MARRIED JILL, 48, in 1999. She cites "irreconcilable differences" in the divorce papers that she's filed to end their 15-year marriage.

Jill is seeking spousal support and joint custody of their three children - Talulah Fyfe, 12, and twins Sullivan Patrick and Darby Galen, 8. She's also requesting that Dempsey, 49 - who is worth an estimated $40 million - pay her attorney fees.

Patrick's first wife, Rocky Parker, called it quits in 1992 after the actor told her he'd met another woman

"Even though I disagree with the law," said Dr. Thep, "it has never been a problem, because these patients have been living a transgender lifestyle for years."

Bruce would appear to fit that description: As The ENQUIRER reported previously, the decathlon champ already has been cross-dressing and stepdaughters Kim and Khloé have spied his "secret fetish" clothing!

"When I met Bruce, I thought he was a girl," a Kardashian family friend has admitted.

ON HIS 65TH birthday last Oct. 28, The ENQUIRER spied Bruce in L.A. flaunting a manicure with brightly painted pink nails.

Bruce also has reportedly undergone two facelifts, as well as cosmetic procedures on his nose, lips, chin and jowls.

What's more, he was photographed on Jan. 26 with what appeared to be even fuller lips and more pronounced breasts. He was spotted with Khloé filming a new E! Network docuseries.

Two days later, it was confirmed the series was in production, and Bruce is "on the verge of revealing he is transgender," sources said.

Bruce is also expected to confirm his sex change in an upcoming interview.

His transformation is believed to be an important plotline in the next season of "Keeping Up with the Kardashians."

'I DIDN'T KNOW OF HIS PROBLEM!'

Bruce's mom's candid tell-all

BRUCE Jenner's mother said her son admitted his upcoming E! show will focus on his transformation from man to woman.

"That's exactly what he told me," Esther Jenner told The ENQUIRER in an exclusive interview.

"I am more proud of him now than when he stood on that Olympic podium and put the gold medal around his neck. He deserves all the respect."

Bruce broke the news when he told her about the show.

"Bruce filled me in, and we had a very long, long, long talk. I've known for a short time and I have got to really educate myself," she said.

Despite the media attention that her son's changing looks have garnered, she admitted it was still a shock.

"It's something that's a little different," Esther said. "I did not know of his problem - if you can call it a problem. But whatever is going on, I support him wholeheartedly."

Esther expects Bruce to be a role model for transgenders: "He can help other people with emotional problems that go along with something [like this]."

'YOU MAKE ME SICK!'

Sidney Poitier 'disgusted' by Bill Cosby scandal

SCREEN legend Sidney Poitier is furious over fears that his final years will be tarnished by Bill Cosby's twisted history of sexual assault!

The 87-year-old Oscar winner is "utterly disgusted" by his former on-screen partner, and "sickened" by the allegations that America's favorite TV dad systematically fed women date rape drugs, a source close to Sidney told The National ENQUIRER.

"Look at Sidney Poitier – unblemished, untainted and distinguished.

"Look at Bill Cosby. Thirty women, they're not all lying," explained the Poitier insider.

The respected film star was first linked to Cosby's victims when Joan Tarshis – one of more than 30 women to have accused Cosby, 77, of sexual assault – wrote about her visits to the set of 1969's "The Bill Cosby Show."

"He once introduced me to Sidney Poitier as 'Midget,' his pet name for me because I was 5-foot-3," she noted – before claiming that she was later drugged and raped by the comic in his nearby bungalow.

Sidney guest-starred on "The New Bill Cosby Show" back in 1972.

'I told Cosby I had an infection and he would catch it and his wife would know'

"I thought I was being clever when I told [Cosby] I had an infection and he would catch it and his wife would know he had sex with someone," Joan recounted.

"But he just found another orifice to use."

Sidney later teamed up with Cosby to direct and co-star in popular '70s comedies such as "Let's Do It Again" and "Uptown Saturday Night" – and then directed his old friend in the 1990 flop "Ghost Dad."

Cosby allegedly used another

Joan Tarshis is one of more than 30 women accusing Cosby

er project as an opportunity to assault actress Angela Leslie, luring her into a Las Vegas hotel suite for an "audition."

Angela turned down a cocktail, but claimed she was still attacked by Cosby before being thrown out of the room.

"I didn't drink the alcohol – and maybe since I didn't pass out, he decided to get rid of me," said Angela.

Now Sidney is further humiliated to learn that Hollywood wife Cindra Ladd has joined the parade of Cosby's accusers, claiming the comic drugged and raped her in 1969.

Cindra is the longtime wife of film executive and producer Alan Ladd, Jr. – and a proud Sidney presented her husband with the Best Picture Oscar for "Braveheart" in 1996.

"I can tell you that Mr. Poitier is terribly disgusted by what Bill Cosby has done, and he feels sorry for him," the source told The ENQUIRER.

Sidney has always wanted audiences to understand that the moral men he played on screen "weren't a far cry from the man he is off screen," the insider explained. Meanwhile, Cosby's sordid secrets expose a monster who was once America's favorite TV dad.

"Have you even heard of whispers about Sidney Poitier?" the source added. "He's dignified, and remains that way – which is why he will say nothing about Cosby."

BEHIND BARS:

O.J. BLASTS TV SHOW ABOUT HIS TRIAL!

ENQUIRER EXCLUSIVE

He wanted Denzel to play him, NOT Cuba Gooding, Jr.,
says a pal

DISGRACED gridiron great O.J. Simpson has slammed producers for choosing Cuba Gooding, Jr. to play him on TV!

"The Juice," speaking out from behind bars, thought producers were kidding when they tapped the 47-year-old "Jerry Maguire" actor to star in "American Crime Story: The People v. O.J. Simpson."

"O.J. was left with his mouth open when they picked Cuba. He thought it was a joke at first," O.J.'s pal and longtime associate Norman Pardo told The National ENQUIRER.

"He said, 'Why would they choose somebody like that to play me?'"

The 10-episode FX miniseries will feature a gallery of stars recreating the sensational 1995 murder trial of the Heisman Trophy winner.

John Travolta, who is also a producer, will play O.J.'s "dream team" attorney Robert Shapiro, while "Friends" star David Schwimmer will portray the late Robert Kardashian.

"American Horror Story" mainstay Sarah Paulson will co-star as L.A. County prosecutor Marcia Clark.

The miniseries will begin production this spring while O.J. sits in a Nevada state prison serving nine to 33 years for an armed robbery and kidnapping in 2007 in Las Vegas.

O.J. had hoped his buddy Denzel

Washington would land the leading role because he believes the two-time Oscar winner has the "charisma" that Cuba lacks, Norman told The ENQUIRER.

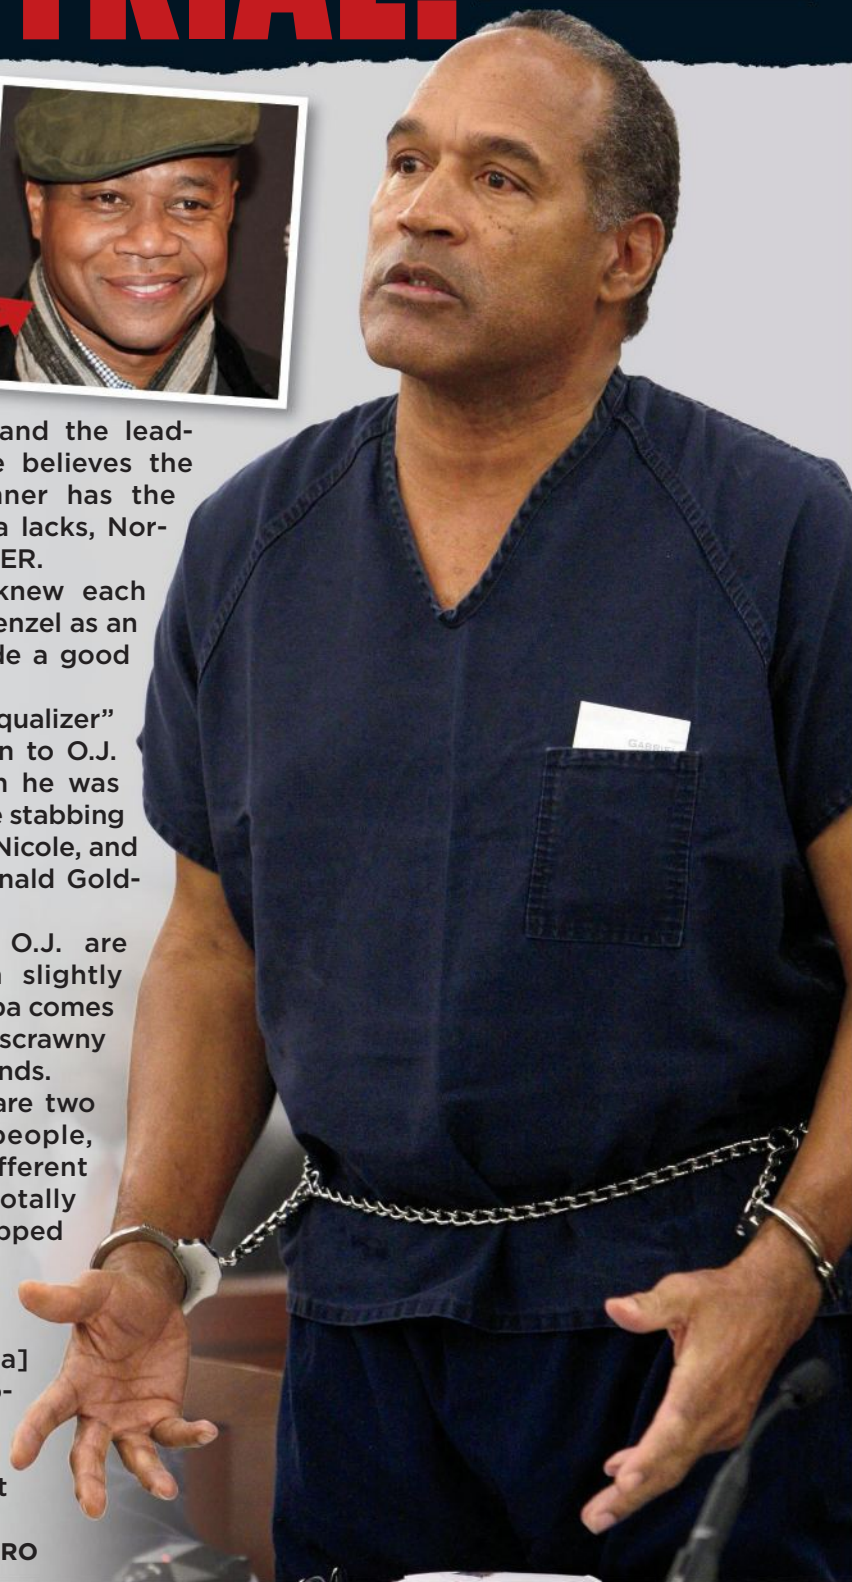

"O.J. and Denzel knew each other, and he loves Denzel as an actor. He'd have made a good O.J.," Norman added.

Besides that, "The Equalizer" star "was never mean to O.J. after the trial," when he was found not guilty in the stabbing deaths of his ex-wife Nicole, and her friend, waiter Ronald Goldman, said Norman.

Both Denzel and O.J. are 6-foot-1, and weigh slightly over 200 pounds. Cuba comes in at a comparatively scrawny 5-foot-10 and 178 pounds.

"Denzel and Cuba are two totally different people, with two totally different personalities and totally different sizes," quipped Norman, who's also developing a miniseries about the ex-footballer. "[Cuba] makes for a good comedian, but not a serious-looking football player. He's just too small for the job."

'I'm Princess Dian

Dynamite claim by school teacher from California!

BRITISH royals – already rocked by Prince Andrew's involvement in a pedophile sex slave ring – are scrambling over a new royal sex scandal, as a California woman claims to be Princess Diana's long-lost aunt!

Ann Ukrainetz, 71, is reigniting her 18-year campaign to be recognized as the illegitimate daughter of the late Lord Maurice Fermoy – who was also the grandfather of Princess Diana!

"I think it's sad that they want to dismiss my claim without getting into the nitty-gritty of what happened," Ann confessed to The National ENQUIRER.

"They just want to brush it under the carpet so that they don't have to deal with it."

Ann, who lives in a suburb of San Diego, has provided The ENQUIRER with extensive evidence to prove she's yet another love child in a long line of royal philandering.

The Sunday school teacher is almost certainly Lord Fermoy's hidden daughter – AND the great aunt of Princes William and Harry.

THE ROYAL SECRET began to unravel with the death of Ann's mother in 1966. Amateur actress Evelyn Rudderforth left behind a tormented confession that Ann had grown up with a father who wasn't her actual parent.

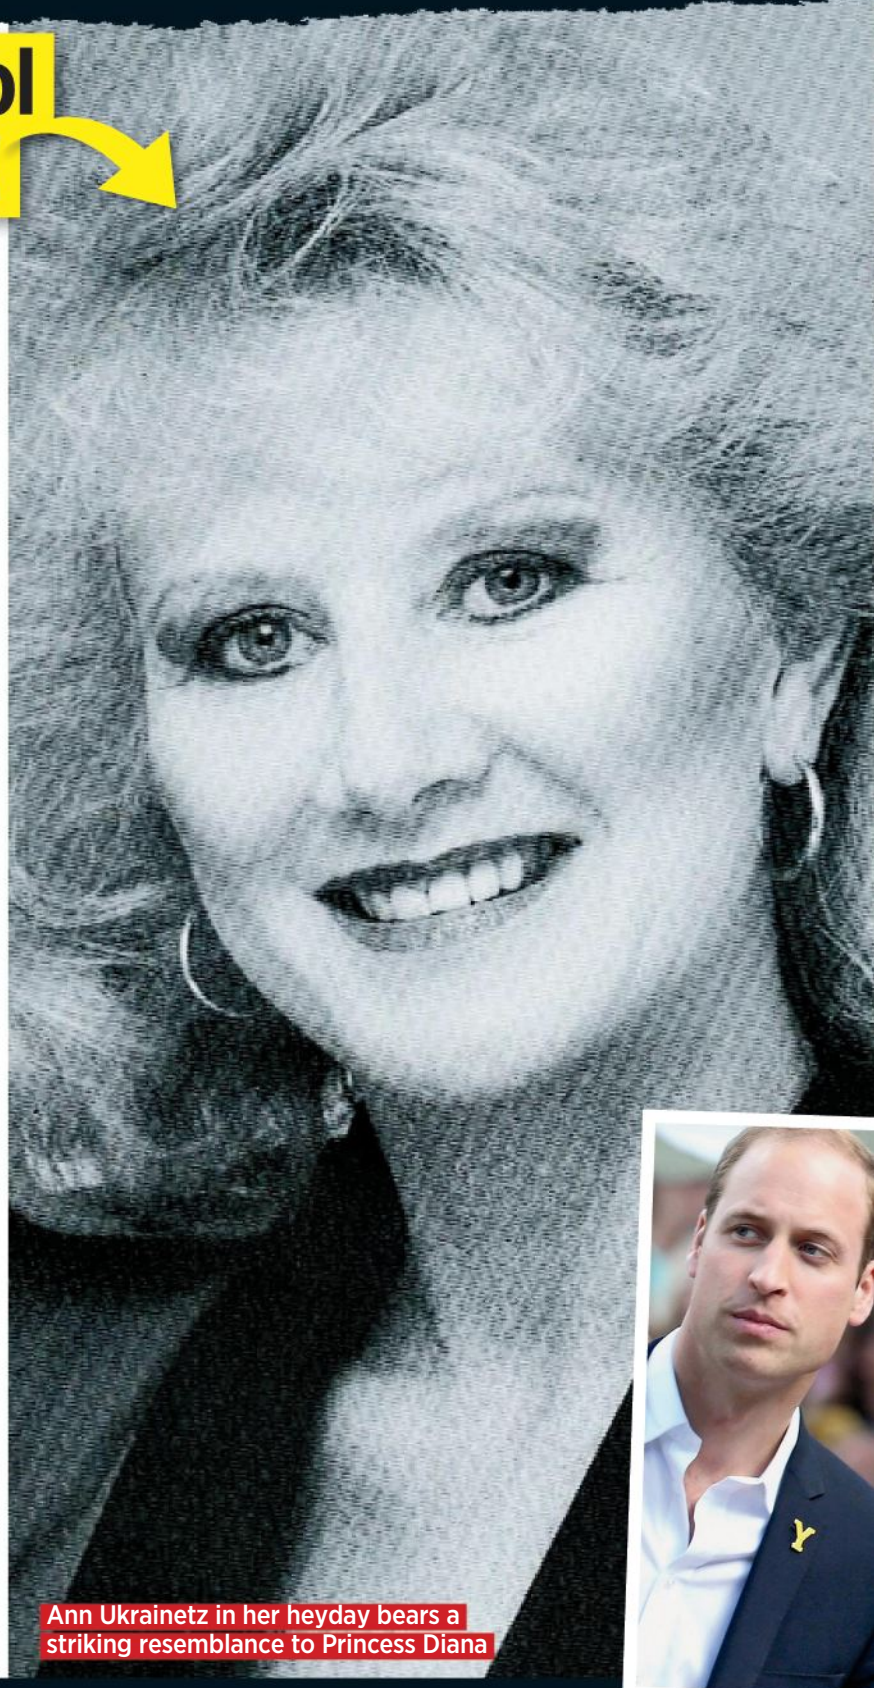

A handwritten note in one of her mother's old songbooks revealed that Ann's real father was Lord Fermoy, who died in 1955 – the same year that Ann's family suddenly left England to settle in Canada.

"Charles was not your biological father. I fell in love with Lord Fermoy and we had you as a result. He was married and I was just a commoner," the message read.

Ann told The ENQUIRER she was shocked by the revelation and didn't even know who Lord Fermoy was. She couldn't ask the man who had raised her, because Charles also died in 1966.

"I WISH [MY mom] had told me about it when she was alive," explained Ann, a mother of three and grandmother of seven. "She may have felt as if she had betrayed herself and didn't want me to think badly of her, and so she kept it to herself."

With the help of a friend, Ann began to reconstruct her childhood growing up in England. She recalled a weekly visit from a well-dressed man she knew only as "the insurance man."

Rifling through dusty documents, Ann discovered secret love letters and notes that revealed Lord Fermoy paid for Ann's music lessons.

Ann thinks her mother met Lord Fermoy through his wife, Lady Ruth, who was a patron of the King's Lynn Players - a theater group that included Ann's mother.

In a surprising twist, Princess Diana's mother is supporting Ann's story from beyond the grave. Frances Shand Kydd would have been Ann's half-sister. The family matriarch passed away in 2004 - less than a year after noting the possible bloodline in the biography, "Frances: The Remarkable Story of Princess Diana's Mother."

"Evelyn Rudderforth was paid in cash and packed off to a foreign county, on the understanding that she and the child would be provided for in return for her discretion," Frances revealed to her biographers.

THE ROYAL FAMILY and Lord Fermoy's descendants still refuse to meet with Ann, or provide DNA evidence to prove her case.

Lord Fermoy's grandson has admitted to English media that he's received Ann's letters but, "Until anything further comes out, I'm not going to believe what she has to say."

"It's a sad situation," Ann said. "They just want to draw the blinds and pretend that nothing happened."

THE FOR TRAVOLTA

JOHN Travolta's ugly court showdown with his former gay lover has exploded into a bitter behind-the-scenes divorce war with wife Kelly Preston following a series of sizzling revelations about the Hollywood megastar's twisted double life!

In a crippling blow to the couple's 23-year marriage, a secret witness is prepared to come forward to unleash stunning and fresh details about the "Pulp Fiction" star in his legal feud with Doug Gotterba, the former pilot who has claimed he had a six-year gay affair with John when he worked for him in the 1980s, sources have told The National ENQUIRER.

The one-time lovers are locked in a battle to determine whether or not Doug signed a confidentiality agreement that would prevent him from telling all about their sordid affair.

The ENQUIRER has identified the witness as Nassim Tahzib, who worked as the actor's limousine driver from 1981 to 1987.

Nassim revealed damaging secrets about the "Saturday Night Fever" hunk in a sensational interview - from wild claims about late-night orgies to John's same-sex fantasies and his ultimate turn on!

In the long-buried blockbuster 1991 tell-all, Nassim said: "He had hunky surfer boys brought to his mansion for nights of passionate sex. John wanted to have men in his arms - not women!

"He had an insatiable desire for gay sex, even though he was terrified of being branded a queen and lived in fear of his macho image being shattered."

IN A THUNDERBOLT TWIST, Nassim revealed the actor, a devout Scientologist, had a taste for hunky, straight married men!

"Outrageous, swishy gays didn't turn him on," Nassim declared.

"He preferred to seduce married men, weightlifters, sports club trainers and others who had not been introduced to the gay scene."

He also revealed: "All he ever seemed to do was quiz me about my sex life ... I decided to turn the tables on him and asked him outright: 'Well, John, what turns you on?'"

"And he replied: 'What gets me hot are guys like you, who have a normal sex life and I can turn them into my lovers. Especially young married men - they're the biggest challenge of all.'"

Faced with the prospect of Nassim entering the witness box, John's lawyer Martin Singer has already taken a preemptive strike and declared Nassim is not a credible witness because of past convictions of multiple serious crimes involving dishonesty.

But revelations from John's former go-to driver promise to give Doug more ammunition in his legal battle against John - and could snowball into his troubled marriage, sources told The ENQUIRER!

Back in Sept. 2012, Doug - a pilot for ►

off JOHN'S DOUBLE LIFE

■ A love of MARRIED MEN & SURFER BOYS

John's aircraft company Alto from 1981 to 1987 – revealed to The ENQUIRER he was writing a sensational account of his affair with John, complete with photos of the pair together.

The book, titled “Travolta Exposed,” kicked off a nearly two-year court battle to silence the author.

Desperate to bury the project, John's pitbull lawyer showered Doug with cease-and-desist letters in an attempt to muzzle him forever.

BUT IN JULY 2014, a California appeals court dismissed a motion by John's legal team to stop Doug from proceeding with his case – a ruling that could eventually lead to the release of the tell-all tome.

“Travolta's attempt at trying to keep Gotterba from publishing a tell-all book about their affair could backfire if Tahzib testifies, and if John himself is forced to swear out a deposition under oath about his gay double life,” said a source close to the case.

While John's lawyer has insisted that “ultimately, [Doug] will not prevail on his claim,” sources said the courtroom brawl could have dire consequences: In addition to potentially exposing John to more public scrutiny, the gay bombshells could trigger a dirty divorce battle and a fight over the couple's $220 million fortune!

California lawyer Christopher Dolan, an expert in civil lawsuits who is not involved in the Travolta case, suggested to The ENQUIRER that John's lawyer could attempt to block Nassim from testifying to save his secrets from being spilled.

John could argue that his “sexuality is not relevant to whether or not there is a valid [confidentiality agreement] contract,” he said.

Nevertheless, a source close to the Travoltas said the proceedings “continue to humiliate” mother-of-two Kelly, who has been married to the “Grease” star since 1991 and who endured the 2009 death of their 16-year-old son, Jett.

AFTER THE ENQUIRER questioned reps for the couple about the shaky state of their marriage, John and Kelly suddenly became social for the first time in 172 days – attending two events during the week of Jan. 25, marking their first public appearances since Aug. 9, 2014.

John and Kelly can otherwise avoid each other, with homes in L.A., Maine, Florida and the Bahamas. Their twisted tactic of living apart still can't help them escape the brutal strain that John's constant scandals puts them under. Keeping up their relationship has taken its toll.

Pilot Doug Gotterba and John strike an intimate pose while sailing the Caribbean “Kelly's dropped a lot of weight, and some days she can't even motivate herself to leave the house,” a source claimed to The ENQUIRER.

ADDED ANOTHER INSIDER: “The Gotterba case could certainly be the end for Kelly and explode what's been a sham marriage deal until now.

“And it could also result in a war over their kids if John and Kelly split.”

John's lawyer has vehemently denied there's any trouble in the couple's marriage and declared sources' claims regarding a divorce are a fabrication.

But John has continued his compulsive behavior – including a recent trip to a Florida gym at 3 a.m., where John sparked headlines over his encounter with a hunky man.

Relationship expert Dr. Gilda Carle, who hasn't treated John or Kelly, told The ENQUIRER: “How could this NOT be more humiliating for her?”

“The hearsay alone, the whispers and reports, have got to be tough for her. And each time this crops up, it's like opening a wound and putting salt in it!”

THE ACCUSERS!

THIS court case isn't the first time that John Travolta's secret gay life has been exposed. Here are others revealed by The ENQUIRER:

■ Joan Edwards spent over a decade as John's personal assistant, and told The ENQUIRER: “Of course I knew he was gay.”

■ Former Scientology official Jesse Prince claimed to The ENQUIRER that John confessed his homosexuality during counseling for a church-run “auditing” session – and that one Scientology dispute had John threatening “that he was going to marry his boyfriend.”

■ Several male massage therapists have accused John of sexual battery, and two of them filed lawsuits against the movie star. John's attorneys vehemently denied the claims, but a website reportedly uncovered documents that revealed John's insurer paid $84,000 in hush money to the men.

MAYER'S CHEATING ON KATY

WITH 'A GIRL IN EVERY PORT'

The singers have broken up three times in the past two years; inset, John snapped with a gaggle of gals

POP princess Katy Perry was busy rehearsing for this year's big Super Bowl halftime show - while her boyfriend John Mayer was scoring with plenty of groupies!

"It's unbelievable, but John's at it again," one shocked source exclusively revealed to The National ENQUIRER.

"He just can't help himself. He's got a girl in every port, and he hasn't cut ties with any of them."

Even more devastating, clueless Katy "has no idea," dished the insider, noting the singer, 30, suffered through a public split with the 37-year-old rocker last year for exactly the same reason.

"Katy thinks she's in control of the situation, trying to play things cool, telling him she doesn't want to be exclusive until he's proven he can be true to her - but it's completely backfired," added the source.

"[Not] 'exclusive' doesn't mean carry on flirting like a playboy with groupies! He insists he's not sleeping with anyone else, but it's very hard to believe with what's happened in the past.

"As far as Katy's concerned, talking all night to random women - texting them, flirting with them - it's emotional cheating, and she's going to hit the roof when she finds out."

And Katy is still fragile after last year's rebound fling with DJ Diplo fell apart - once she discovered he already had a baby on the way with an ex.

Katy's own inner circle isn't surprised though - as one insider said, "Let's face it: Katy's got really bad luck with men, and restarting something with John is only going to end in tears again!"

'Taylor's waist is so tiny it's RIDICULOUS!'

Friends fear Swift's giving up on eating

TAYLOR Swift's romantic woes have pals concerned she could be turning anorexic - living off bread and water!

The 25-year-old pop sensation is famous for failed romances with boyfriends, including Jake Gyllenhaal and John Mayer.

"She doesn't have a guy in her life, and that may be fueling her weight loss," claimed a close friend.

"She works out a lot - but her waist has become so tiny, it's ridiculous!"

Now her pals believe the 5-foot-10 star - usually weighing 120 pounds - is down to 110! The singer even passed on the menu recently while dining at swanky NYC eatery Butter Midtown and opted for just a piece of bread and water, a local paper reported.

While Taylor's camp insists she is "happy and healthy," friends worry that her diet is getting worse.

"She hardly ever eats in front of anyone and if she does, she'll either eat very little or eat up a storm," said her pal.

All The BUZZ

Enquiring minds want to know

Shia sees death by 33

HOLLYWOOD weirdo Shia LaBeouf is telling friends that he's had a premonition of his own death!

"I'm not sure how it happens, but I'm convinced I'm going to die at age 33, just like Jesus and John Belushi," the star confided recently.

"I believe the soul goes on though, so not only am I not scared, I think it will be a great adventure."

Shia, 28, was raised by parents who believe in all religions and he continues to practice many faiths. But he said he found Christianity after playing the role Boyd "Bible" Swan in "Fury," and he now speaks directly to God. "I have a personal relationship with God," he said.

"I can't describe how I know this will happen, but it will!"

Britney Boo Boo!

MAMA JUNE WANTS HONEY TO BE THE NEXT BRITNEY SPEARS

HONEY Boo Boo's mother, Mama June Shannon, is increasingly desperate for cash after TLC canceled their hit show, "Here Comes Honey Boo Boo," last fall because she resumed her relationship with a convicted child molester.

Disgraced June, 35, is taking advice from Kardashian matriarch Kris Jenner, who's told her to invest in turning her 9-year-old daughter into the next Britney Spears!

"Showbiz is the only thing

Mama June knows now. She couldn't do a normal job anymore," dished an insider.

"Kris said that Honey Boo Boo is the cash cow of the family and [June] needed to exploit her to the full, just like she did with Kim."

Now, the former pageant star, Alana Thompson, is taking singing and dancing lessons!

"June wants her to be the new Britney or Miley Cyrus," said the source. "Or she could end up being a country singer like LeAnn Rimes."

WHO YOU GONNA CALL?

The new 'Ghostbusters' chicks or the originals?

Melissa McCarthy heads the "Ghostbusters" remake cast, which makes her Bill Murray's Peter Venkman!

Kristen Wiig was the straight man in "Bridesmaids," a perfect precursor for Dan Aykroyd's Ray Stantz.

Leslie Jones was the oldest person to ever be cast on "SNL." Is she odd enough to play Harold Ramis' Egon Spengler?

Kate McKinnon of "SNL" is the baby of the new cast, much like Rick Moranis when he played nerdy accountant Louis Tully.

Marie's grandchild jubilation!

THE second time as a grandmother will be a charm for Marie Osmond! The singer, 55, is ecstatic that her daughter Rachael, 25, is pregnant with her first.

"Marie missed the birth of her first grandchild, from her eldest, Stephen Craig, in December 2013 because she was on tour," said an insider. "She's ordered her manager to cancel tour dates in September that take her out of Las Vegas."

Rachael, at right, and husband Gabriel Krueger are costume designers on Marie's Las Vegas show.

"Marie is counting down the days. Secretly she is hoping for a girl - she already has a grandson!" added the source.

Liam's quandary

LIAM Neeson is under pressure to get his sons into showbiz as the next era of Redgraves to take over Hollywood!

He had resisted letting Micheál, 19, and Daniel, 18 - Vanessa Redgrave's grandkids - act because of a promise he made to his late wife, Natasha Richardson. "Natasha wanted them to have a proper education with college diplomas," said a family pal. "But now they're approaching their 20s [and] there's incredible opportunities on the table for them."

Hubby making Jess tubby

AFTER a massive 70-pound weight loss, Jessica Simpson is packing on the pounds again - and blames her foodie hubby, Eric Johnson!

"Jess has gained almost 10 pounds since last year and she's complaining that it's because of Eric," said an insider, adding that he keeps the house stocked with fatty vegan foods and Jess, 34, can't keep her paws off them!

Jessica's weight had dropped to 94 pounds pre-wedding, but now, a source said: "Jess is steadily gaining weight, and the holidays were a diet disaster!"

Classic ENQUIRER

Cher's daughter Chastity Bono assured The ENQUIRER this week in 1990 that she wasn't gay, declaring: "I'm looking forward to having a husband and children" in an exclusive interview. Chaz Bono underwent female-to-male gender transition from 2008 to 2010, and is now an outspoken advocate for the LGBT community.

Dianne's broke

Sixty-six-year-old actress Dianne Wiest has won two Oscars and is a Broadway star - but she's having trouble paying the rent. "I have to move out of my apartment soon," she joked.

THE FINAL SIXTY SECONDS

James Caan, 74, has filed for divorce from his wife for the third time in their 18-year marriage. "The Godfather" star is now locked in a bitter fight over custody of his 16-year-old son with Linda Stokes, his fourth wife! James has five children and four grandchildren.

As predicted by The ENQUIRER, Christopher Reeve's son, William Reeve, 22, is a chip off the old block! Will, a total lookalike of his handsome dad, announced that he will be joining ESPN's flagship program, "SportsCenter," as one of three new correspondents.

Sofia Vergara's ex Nick Loeb said she never returned the ring he gave her, but he still wishes her all the best with new fiancé Joe Manganiello. "She's a woman - she loves jewelry," he said.

Candice living in TERROR!

Cancer scare left her gripped by paranoia

NEARLY 10 years after surviving back-to-back medical crises, sitcom queen Candice Bergen remains paranoid about her health.

The 68-year-old “Murphy Brown” and “Boston Legal” star is “still living in fear” and vigilantly monitors her health, according to sources.

“Candice is super health-conscious,” said an insider. “She never misses a checkup, and will go to the doctor at the first sign of any trouble.”

As The National ENQUIRER has reported, the actress – daughter of famed ventriloquist Edgar Bergen – endured a cancer nightmare and then a near-fatal stroke in 2006.

Candice, then 60, was forced to undergo a painful biopsy after doctors detected a spot on her thyroid gland.

The cancer drama terrified Candice and her husband, real estate magnate Marshall Rose.

Happily, the test came back negative. But three months later, Candice collapsed after she began to feel dizzy and weak, and was struck by an excruciating headache.

She was rushed to Cedars-Sinai Medical Center where doctors determined she’d suffered a stroke, and worked feverishly to save the five-time Emmy winner.

During a six-hour procedure, doctors found that one or more clots were blocking blood flow to her brain, and removed the clots noninvasively, a source said at the time.

“Candice is well past those medical crises, but not a day goes by when she doesn’t count her blessings, and she’s very vigilant when it comes to her health,” said a pal.

Late in 2014, Candice wrapped up a run on Broadway, after co-starring with Alan Alda in a revival of “Love Letters.” She’s also penned a memoir, “A Fine Romance.”

“Candice plans to be around for a long time,” added the friend. “She’s determined to make it to 70 – and beyond.”

MARLO'S TORMENT OVER AILING HUBBY PHIL

STAR of “That Girl” Marlo Thomas is heartbroken as her beloved husband Phil Donahue is fading, sources revealed to The National ENQUIRER.

“It’s like he’s losing his will to live,” said a family friend, adding that Phil was rocked last year by the death of his youngest son, James.

“Jim” was just 51 when he suffered a fatal aortic aneurysm. While Phil comes from a large family and has four surviving children, “It really hurt Phil ... the tragedy stung bad,” explained the friend.

“On top of that, he’s appeared to have lost the bounce in his step as age has crept up on him.”

The couple still enjoys a combined fortune of more than $50 million, and Phil recently celebrated his 79th birthday with 77-year-old Marlo in Barbados.

Marlo’s publicist denied Phil is in poor health but acknowledged he was heartbroken

Marlo, left, married the pioneering talk show host in 1980 over his son’s death and recently underwent successful shoulder surgery.

“In no way is he fading,” said the rep. “Marlo has a tough time keeping up with him.”

Phil’s daytime talk show ran on national TV for 26 years – with the final original episode on September 13, 1996, ending the longest continuous run of a syndicated talk show in U.S. TV history.

LIVER OR AGE SPOTS?

Are unsightly brown spots on your face and body making you uncomfortable? Age spots, also known as liver spots, affect the cosmetic surface of the skin and can add years to your appearance. Millions of people live with the dark spots and try to cover them with makeup, or bleach them with harsh chemicals because they are not aware of this new topical treatment that gently and effectively lightens the shade of the skin.

MagniLife® Age Spot Cream uses natural botanicals, such as licorice root extract, to naturally fade age spots, freckles, and other age-associated discolorations. Ingredients help protect skin from harmful external factors, and emollients soften and smooth the skin. "I've been using MagniLife Age Spot Cream for several months, and I can testify that it works! Thank you for this really wonderful natural product." - Ella D., FL.

Try it risk free. MagniLife® Age Spot Cream is available for $19.99 ($5.95 S&H) for a 2 oz jar. Get a FREE jar when you order two for $39.98 ($9.95 S&H). Send payment to MagniLife AC-NF4, PO BOX 6789, McKinney, TX 75071 or call 1-800-632-1416. 90-day satisfaction guarantee, or return for a full refund. Order now at www.AgeSpotSolution.com

YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. STUART FISCHER, GIA PORTFOLIO & LAURIE MILLER

HOW YOU CAN BEAT JUNK FOOD JANUARY!

While people start the new year with good intentions about health and diet, they actually eat more food in January. Sure, folks pick up more indulgent foods during the holidays, but they stock up with more healthy food along with – and not instead of – junk food in January. Dr. Stuart Fischer's advice? Use two grocery baskets – one for healthy foods, the other for non-essentials – to make you think twice about what and how much you buy.

ANSWER TO YOUR ACHES!

As people age, they need to acknowledge the signals the body sends. If you have achy knees, hand stiffness, knuckle swelling or joint pain ... welcome to middle age ... and probable osteoarthritis! Dr. Fischer recommends seeing a physician and making healthy lifestyle changes. "Maintain a sensible weight and use Omega 3 and 6 oils as nutritional supplements to limit inflammation."

HEALTH NEWS YOU'LL USE

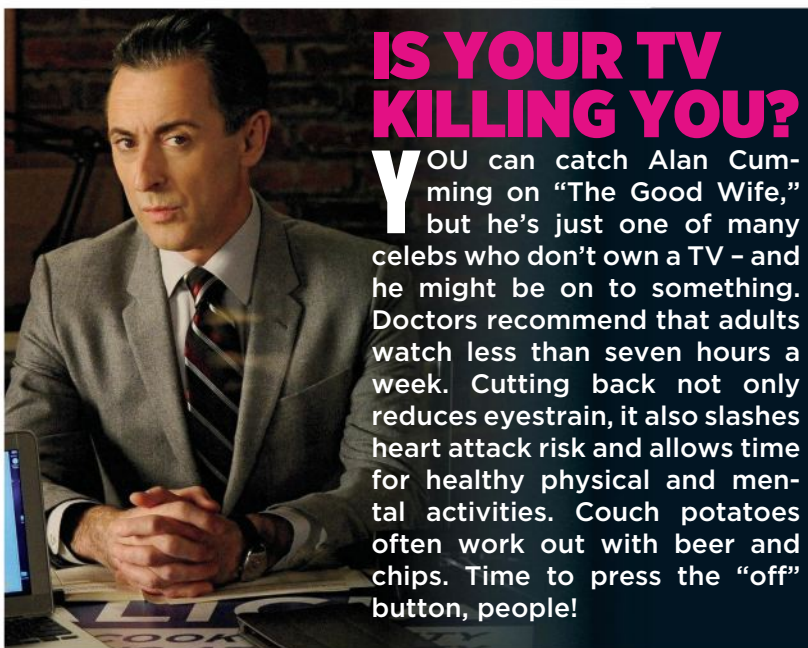

BREATHTAKING GOOD NEWS!

HERE'S heartening news for breast cancer sufferers! Women who hold their breath during breast cancer radiation treatments can easily reduce their risk of suffering heart damage as a side effect. Those who do reduce the radiation exposure to their heart by 62 percent. At Thomas Jefferson University, patients who were capable of holding their breath over the course of treatment had a 96 percent overall survival rate. "We routinely offer breast cancer treatment with the breath-hold technique," said Rani Anne, M.D., associate professor of radiation oncology at Jefferson.

IS YOUR TV KILLING YOU?

YOU can catch Alan Cumming on "The Good Wife," but he's just one of many celebs who don't own a TV – and he might be on to something. Doctors recommend that adults watch less than seven hours a week. Cutting back not only reduces eyestrain, it also slashes heart attack risk and allows time for healthy physical and mental activities. Couch potatoes often work out with beer and chips. Time to press the "off" button, people!

DON'T ALWAYS TAKE TWO OF THESE

Many aging Americans pop aspirin daily in hopes of heading off a heart attack. That's because medical experts maintain that people who've suffered a heart attack or stroke can lower their risk of another by taking aspirin. But the pill is not a cure-all. Aspirin can cause stomach bleeding and erosion, leading to bigger problems. "Using aspirin as a replacement for eating poorly and lack of exercise can be damaging," said Dr. Fischer. "People who take aspirin and neglect their health in significant 'lifestyle' ways are hurting themselves."

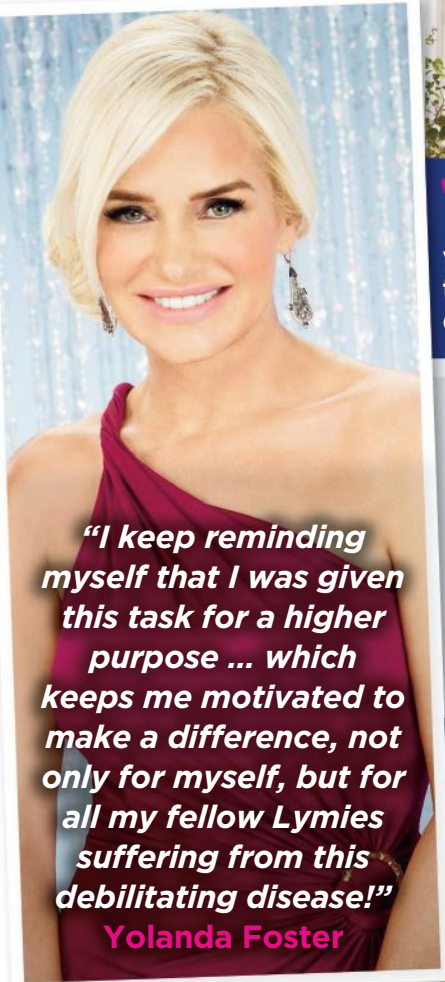

GIVE YOURSELF A BAR EXAM

You work hard, so why not reward yourself with a couple of drinks? People who work long hours in high-stress positions pound the booze harder but still need to be careful, warned Dr. Fischer. "Low doses of beer, wine or spirits have health benefits, like better digestion and heart disease prevention," said Dr. Fischer. "But more than 14 drinks a week for men or 21 for women will bring liver disease, cirrhosis and ulcers." Last call!

HOW TO LICK LYME DISEASE!

Hot tips for prevention and treatment

"I keep reminding myself that I was given this task for a higher purpose ... which keeps me motivated to make a difference, not only for myself, but for all my fellow Lymies suffering from this debilitating disease!"

Yolanda Foster

YOLANDA Foster, star of "The Real Housewives of Beverly Hills," has struggled with the crippling effects of Lyme disease for three years, and is now an advocate for research to battle it. "As tired and hopeless as I feel at times, I have an undeniable spirit that will continue to fight ... until I have the proper answers," she said. Here are key strategies from Dr. Stuart Fischer for dealing with the disease.

1 KEEP TICKS AT BAY

Clear patios and play areas of shrubs and vegetation that attract deer – which carry ticks. Use wood chips, gravel or fencing to discourage deer from entering the yard.

2 BE SKIN TIGHT!

"Wear long pants and sleeves when walking in wooded or grassy areas," Dr. Fischer advised. "Cover yourself with insect repellent as well."

3 KEEP YOUR EYE ON THE TARGET

"Do a daily inventory on yourself and your kids for ticks and signs of the disease. Be alert for the 'bull's-eye rash,' which looks like a target and is a sign of infection."

4 GET A HEAD!

"If you find a tick, remove it immediately with fine-tipped tweezers. Extract it head-first to ensure a full extraction, and grab a magnifying glass to make sure you got it all!"

5 ACT FAST!

"Anyone bitten in a tick-infested area should consult a health care practitioner at once. A blood test will not be abnormal for weeks after a bite, which may be too late."

6 STAY ON TOP OF IT

"Antibiotics are the best treatment and are often effective, but make sure to use only with [guidance from] a practitioner or disease specialist," Dr. Fischer said.

DEMONS THAT HAUNTED P

Tragic end to a crazed night of partying for Whitney's wild child

WHITNEY Houston's troubled daughter Bobbi Kristina learned she was pregnant just hours before a wild night of partying – ending in a shocking suicide drama!

In a bombshell world exclusive, The National ENQUIRER can reveal the tortured final minutes of the 21-year-old's horrific Jan. 31 medical emergency, with Bobbi Kristina clinging to life as The ENQUIRER went to press.

"Krissi was pushed to the edge," a source told The ENQUIRER. "She learned she was in the family way only hours before," added a pal – a fact confirmed in leaked emails, obtained by The ENQUIRER, between Bobbi Kristina and a family friend.

In them, she talked openly about wanting to have a child. Said a source: "On top of that, she was at war with her father [Bobby Brown] and haunted by her mother Whitney's demons as the third anniversary of her death approached.

"If that wasn't enough, Krissi was reeling from the TV movie that had aired on Lifetime only days before, which showed her mom and dad's stormy relationship and their drug use."

In a scene eerily similar to her mother's tragic death on Feb. 11, 2012, Bobbi Kristina was found unconscious in a water-filled bathtub at her townhouse in the Atlanta suburb of Roswell, Ga.

Added another insider: "What may have started as a cry for help ended in what appeared to be a tragic suicide and drug overdose."

This wasn't the first suicide bid: The ENQUIRER reported in 2008 that Bobbi Kristina – then 14 years old – slashed her wrists with a razor blade after trying to stab her mom during a heated argument.

BOBBI KRISTINA WAS also distraught over constantly fighting with husband Nick Gordon as the couple marked their first anniversary, the source added.

The police had been called to the townhouse on Jan. 23 over a reported fight – but when cops arrived, there was no one home.

Six days later, Bobbi Kristina retweeted a post that seems ominous in retrospect: "Getting your s--- together is one thing, keeping it together is another."

The night before, Bobbi Kristina and Nick partied with friends. Around 3 a.m., Bobbi posted a solo selfie, and then another of herself with a pal identified as Edwin DeMarco.

What happened over the next seven hours remains a mystery – but our insider said: "When

Bobbi Kristina snorting drugs and, far right, when she collapsed after learning about her mom's overdose

A LIFE WRECKED BY DRUG

BOBBI Kristina Brown was struggling for her life just months after dismissing The National ENQUIRER's reporting on her drug binges as "insane!"

In fact, The ENQUIRER has spent years helping her closest friends intervene in the desperate drug hell of Whitney Houston's daughter – exposing the same rampant addiction that consumed Bobbi

REGNANT BOBBI KRISTINA

The Roswell, Ga., home where Bobbi Kristina lived with her mom and remained through the suicide drama

the party ended, Nick passed out, but Krissi was left alone with her own dark thoughts.”

Around 10:20 a.m., Nick found his wife unconscious in a bathroom of their home. She was lying facedown in the water-filled tub.

“NICK INSTANTLY FLASHED back to Whitney’s tragic ending, and shouted, ‘Please, Krissi, don’t die!’” the source told The ENQUIRER.

The husband summoned another man in the house to call 911 at 10:23 a.m. The two men lifted Bobbi Kristina’s body out of the tub, turning her face up on the floor of the bathroom.

Roswell Police Dept. official Lisa Holland said: “She was unresponsive, meaning not breathing, no heartbeat. [Nick] started CPR on her.”

Bobbi Kristina was rushed by ambulance to North Fulton Hospital in possible cardiac arrest. No drugs or alcohol were found at the scene, but a source said: “Like Whitney’s death, there’s now questions if any evidence was removed.”

While doctors were able to get Bobbi Kristina breathing, her outlook was grim.

She was placed in a medically induced coma among reports that she was “brain dead.”

A day later, she was moved to an Atlanta hospital and her father Bobby asked fans to “give my daughter the love and support she needs at this time.”

The last photo of Bobbi Kristina and Nick was taken Jan. 20, as they exited a drugstore near their home. A slight baby bump was apparent.

“Krissi thought a baby would solve all her problems. Now we may never know what type of mother she would have been,” said the source.

! HOW WHITNEY’S DEATH SENT HER DAUGHTER ON PATH OF DESTRUCTION

Kristina’s junkie mother!

In our March 14, 2011 issue, a series of shocking photos obtained exclusively by The ENQUIRER showed the troubled teen – known to her friends as “Krissi” – snorting lines of cocaine at two different parties.

In addition to cocaine and marijuana, a close source said Bobbi Kristina was also hopelessly addicted to alcohol – guzzling beer and getting smashed on the potent grain alcohol Everclear.

The ENQUIRER informant was a former boyfriend of Bobbi Kristina who had come forward in a desperate bid to save her life, and to beg Whitney – then still alive – to get involved before it was too late.

“Krissi is addicted to cocaine. I’ve tried to stop her, but all she said was, ‘I’m just like my mother!’” the ex-lover – who dated her for 2-and-a-half years – revealed ► to The ENQUIRER. The photos showed Bobbi Kristina – aged 17 at the time and living with her mother – snorting cocaine while partying at a friend’s house in Alpharetta, Ga.

“Krissi was pretty wired,” divulged the young man, who eyewitnessed Bobbi Kristina’s behavior and snapped the photos.

After the blockbuster photos made shocking headlines around the world, Bobbi Kristina took to Twitter to deny she had checked into rehab.

Eleven months later, Whitney was dead at age 42.

Bobbi Kristina – who accompanied her doomed mother on the trip to Los Angeles for the Grammys – was so devastated that she was rushed to a hospital after collapsing from stress and anxiety.

Whitney’s drug-related death only spurred on her daughter’s own addictions – with Bobbi Kristina even caught getting high while sneaking out of her mother’s funeral!

Only weeks after the death, The ENQUIRER published more photos of Bobbi Kristina’s tragic descent into drug depravity.

Those pics appeared in our March 12, 2012 issue – taken from a video shot in March 2011, as Bobbi Kristina partied with college pals at an off-campus apartment in Statesboro, Ga.

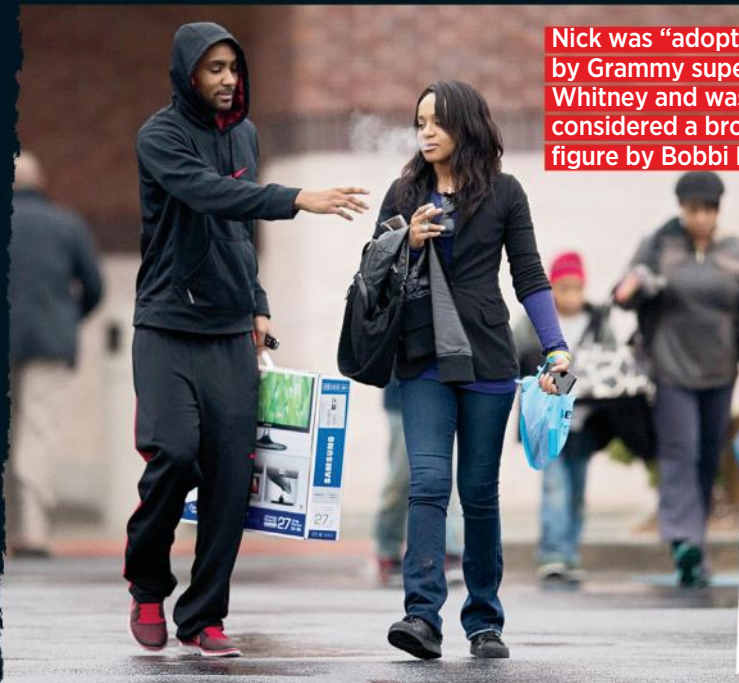

With her eyes glazed over, Bobbi Kristina is seen taking hits of marijuana from a giant bong and downing shots of vodka.

On the video, she said: “Give me the lighter,” and then ignited a bowl of marijuana in the three-foot-long smoking pipe.

Six months ago, in The ENQUIRER’s Aug. 4 issue, we reported that Bobbi Kristina’s behavior had “sparked new concerns that she’s abusing drugs.”

She responded on her Instagram account, declaring: “People are insane.”

– BARRY LEVINE

Nick was “adopted” by Grammy superstar Whitney and was considered a brotherly figure by Bobbi Kristina ‘Druggie’ husband Nick may get his hands on Whitney’s $20m estate!

IT’S double heartbreak for Whitney Houston’s family – as relatives fear that Bobbi Kristina’s hated hubby will inherit Whitney’s entire $20 million estate!

As the sole heir to her mother’s fortune, Bobbi Kristina “didn’t protect herself with a prenup” when she married Nick Gordon in January 2014, The National ENQUIRER previously reported.

Nick has bitterly feuded with Whitney’s family ever since, with family members viewing him as “a gold digger and drug enabler for Bobbi,” said an insider.

Tensions exploded last year when Whitney’s nephew Gary Houston beat up Nick “for being disrespectful to the family,” according to sources.

Nick entered Whitney’s life in 2008, after his stepfather kicked him out of their Georgia home because of his marijuana habit. The singer unofficially adopted Nick – and The ENQUIRER reported in 2012 that he was dealing drugs to both Whitney and her daughter.

The gun-toting Nick has also been accused by neighbors of making death threats and carrying on all-night parties fueled by drugs and booze.

Nick flaunted his obsession with guns on social media and, right, his mug shot for drunk driving

CRYPTOGRAM QUOTES

FAMOUS QUOTES FROM YOUR FAVORITE PEOPLE

Cryptograms are coded messages. To solve the Cryptogram, each coded letter must be replaced by the answer letter in the box overhead. When you solve the code for a letter, write the answer letter in the box everywhere the coded letter appears. Look for common words and letter patterns to break the code. Words like AND, I, THE and A are found frequently. Common word endings are ING, S and E.

PHOTOS THAT MAKE AMERICA SMILE...

Natalie and Hannah

OH BABIES! Clad in matching quilted fleece onesies, 6-month-old twins Natalie and Hannah Lerner are ready to go for a walk in Chicago. The bundled-up beauties live with their parents, Danielle and Steven, in the Windy City. Grandmother Adrienne Hirschfeld of St. Louis, Mo., will receive $50 for submitting the winning photo in this week's Oh Baby! contest.

Photo must be a personal snapshot and not be copyrighted or taken by a professional photographer. Email ohbaby@nationalenquirer.com. Photos must be 300 dpi and saved as a .jpg. Or mail to Oh Baby!, National Enquirer, P.O. Box 1831, New York, NY 10156. Include your name, address and phone number. Submissions cannot be returned.

YOUR LETTERS

We pay $50 for the Letter of the Week and $25 for every other letter we publish.

Trainwreck Tori

Tori Spelling is dreaming if she thinks baby No. 5 will fix her marriage [First to Know, Jan. 5]. I don't care if she has 10 children with Dean McDermott. If he's a cheater, wake up and face it.

—Dorothy W. Hamden, Conn.

Outrageously Chelsea

So-called comedian Chelsea Handler needs to get a grip on reality ["Stop the Selfies, Jen Tells Chelsea," Jan. 19]. Her social media posts are all miscues and the woman is just not funny at all.

—Mike G. Haledon, N.J.

Letter of the Week

Only one private eye
Tom Selleck has a right to be upset over plans to make a Magnum movie without him ["Selleck Seething Over 'Magnum' Snub," Jan. 12]. He made the show – I don't understand why he couldn't do it again. Age has nothing to do with it, he's just a GREAT actor.

HOW TO PLAY

You must fill in every empty square in the Sudoku grid. There's no right way of going about this, but there is only ever one solution. The big grid is split into nine mini-grids. There are nine rows running left to right and nine columns running down. In every row, you must have each of the numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9. These can be in any order. The same applies to columns and mini-grids: place every number 1 through 9 in each column and in each mini-grid.

BOUNCING BACK FROM TERRIBLE ABUSE!

Kanga-pooch gets by without front legs!

THE ODD LIST

LITTLE Roo hasn't always had it easy, but she's hopped right into the hearts of her new family and neighbors!

The five-month-old pup was born with one front leg missing and likely had the other ripped off in a fight, yet she still bounces around town like she doesn't have a care in the world!

The handicapped hound was horribly abused in her home country of Romania, and left looking like she could pose as a stunt double for a kangaroo.

She was rescued by British charity Safe Rescue for Dogs, and adopted by husband and wife Ian and Nikki Dick.

Since moving into their home in Northumberland, England, two-legged Roo's created quite the buzz around town, with wide-eyed folks wondering if they're seeing another kind of 'roo on the loose!

"Roo doesn't know any different to hopping on her two back legs," said Nikki.

"But she still laps up all the fuss from people who stop and do a double-take when they see her because they think she's a kangaroo."

In fact, despite her physical limits, Roo is practically jumping for joy in her new home.

"She's perfectly happy and pain-free, and vets are happy with her progress," said Nikki.

Even the other hounds around town have accepted the mock marsupial.

"She is right at home with the other dogs and acts like any other cheeky little puppy who just happens to have two legs and look like a kangaroo," Nikki added.

"She might look like a kangaroo, but to us she is just our little puppy Roo."

And that's how this pup hopped to the top of this week's Odd List.

Roo now lives with a loving family in England, where her neighbors mistake her for a kangaroo!
